RESULT OF TRACTION COMPANY RE-PUDIATING SETTLEMENT.

Three Hours After Philadelphia Strike Had Been Declared Off the Employes Were Locked Out.

THIS MOVE CONSIDERED ADVISABLE TO AVOID SUNDAY RIOTS.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.-The strike of the Union Traction lines, which was declared off by the labor leaders at 1 o'clock this morning on a proposition sent to them by Mayor Warwick, on the authority of traction officials, represented by Thomas Dolan, through Rev. Dr. Baker and George Griffiths, a committee of the Christian League, was, a few hours afterward, when the men reported for duty, declared on again, and is to-night apparently as hard and fast as ever. There was obviously a misunderstanding or a mistake in the interpretation of the proposition submitted to the strikers, on one side or Thomas Dolan is a director of the Tracmanagement of the affairs of the company. Mayor Warwick says he distinctly understood that Mr. Dolan had full authority to act for the company and that Dolan acquiesced in the agreement. The tion company and has been active in the proposition was accepted, the strike called off, and at 2 o'clock in the morning, Mayor Warwick, with beaming eyes, announced that the troubles were at an end.

The Mayor was still felicitating himself when at 3:20 in the morning Mr. Welsh entered the Mayor's office, and, as president of the Union Traction Company, surprised him by making the statement that cause he had hired 1,000 men to take the place of strikers and they could not be displaced. Mr. Welsh was most positive in his declaration and declined to recede from his position. When the strikers went to the various depots to take out their cars they were dismayed to learn from the superintendent that there had been no orders for their reinstatement and that they were virtually "locked out."

The result of Mr. Weish's reversal Dolan's action is said to be widening breach which is known to be existing in the board of directors of the Traction company. The exciting incidents have had such an effect on Mr. Doian's nervous sys-tem that he is reported sick in bed to-night. There will be a cessation of hostilities tomorrow, as the Traction management, after seeking advice of the Director of Public Safety, decided to-night not to run any cars on the Sabbath. This is undoubtedly a wise precaution, as the strikers and their sympathizers, in their present mood, would probably make serious trouble. RIOTING RENEWED.

As a result of the strikers' falling to The men and their sympathizers were very angry, and there were outbreaks of mob violence in at least twenty places, and other missiles. Many people were hurt, but none seriously. The police auas soon as word was received of the gathering of a mob a detachment of mounted men would be sent to the scene and the crowds dispersed. Scores of cars entered the depots with all glasses broken and the wood work battered up. Toward afternoon the cars which had been running quite regularly in the morning hours were gradually withdrawn, and at nightfall not a car was

The following order, signed by General Manager Beetem, was posted at the Traction depots to-night:

"All employes as per our pay roll of Dec. 16 who will apply for work individually and without any conditions, other than those arranged by Mayor Warwick and this company, will be received on Monday before 12 o'clock." A large mass meeting was held at Labor Lyceum to-night, and was addressed by the various leaders. The men seem most con-

President J. L. Welsh made the following statement this morning regarding the announcement that the strike was ended: We will take back all the men we can use. We have one thousand men whom we must keep. We will cancel all contracts outside the city not actually filled. We will e the thousand men we cannot now take back a chance for employment ahead of strangers, provided they are efficient and of good character. Four thousand five hundred men are on strike. We can take back 3,500 of the 4,500 to-day. We believe to-day, as we have all along, that our men "The proposition to treat with a committee from the ranks of our employes is one

AGREEMENT MUST, HOLD. Rev. Dr. Baker and George Griffith, the committee representing the Christian League, who were active in bringing about the midnight strike compromise, called at the strike headquarters at 2 p. m. with a verbal message from the Mayor and city solicitor. They told the committee that the two city officials said emphatically that the agreement whereby the strikers were to return to work, pending an adjustment of the sentiment. General Manager Beetem declares that he has 2,500 men to work, and with that force he can run his lines on half schedule time. At Forty-fourth street and Girard avenue this morning railroad torpedoes were placed on tracks. When the motorman of the first of three Lancaster-avenue cars stopped mob of about two hundred persons attacked the third car and broke nearly every window and battered the woodwork. The conductor was hit and knocked down by a stone thrown by a boy. Stones were thrown at the other two cars. The cars were finally started under strong police protection, with a yelling, hooting mob chasing after them. Torpedoes were exploded on the tracks near Forty-first and Spring Garden streets. Their only effect was to frighten timid people. A big crowd gathered, and woman handling a broom spear fashion hurled it through the car. At Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets a mob attacked several cars with stones, wrecking all the

The strikers declare that they have been tricked and vow vengeance NO CARS WILL RUN TO-DAY Leader Mahon said that they are more determined than ever and he expressed fear for what the night may bring forth. Thomas Dolan, the traction director, who submitted last night's agreement, is ill at events. It is understood that a majority of the traction directors consented to Mr. Dolan's offer to meet and treat with a committee representing the strikers if they would return to work. He failed, however, to consult Mr. Welsh, and that gentleman repudiated the agreement as soon as he heard of it, which was at 3 o'clock this morning. Sympathy for Mr. Dolan is everywhere expressed, and nobody hesitates to assert that he has been "thrown down" by President Welsh. Mr. Dolan was entirely ignorant of the fact that one thousand men had been, and would be, retained by the goods were found. An arrest was followed by a release of the suspects, who then armed themselves with guns, knives and other weapons and paraged the streets of the village this morning, closing all the business houses and terrorizing the citizens. At noon to-day Shediff McKinstry and a posse went down from this city with a view of arresting them. The latest intelligence shows that the desperadoes have men had been, and would be, retained by the company, and that when he brought the agreement to the Mayor's office he was unconsciously working at cross-purposes with Mr. Welsh.

The situation is graver than at any time since the strike was begun. Mayor War-wick, when asked whether he would order that the operation of all cars cease should nditions continue as they are, replied that the law gave him no authority to do

The strikers' committee this afternoon issued a statement, in which they say:

THE PILGRIM FATHERS.

Refers to the Venezuelan Dispute and Predicts Arbitration.

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Dec. 21.-The 275th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim fathers was celebrated by the Plymouth Society here to-day. The exercises included besides special musical features an oration by United States Senator George F. Hoar and an original poem by Richard Henry Stoddard, of Boston. The guests of the society arrived in a special train early this afternoon and were welcomed at the station by the reception committee of the soclety. The party proceeded to Pilgrim Hall, whence, under the marshalship of Col. W. P. Stoddard, with the Standish Guards as escort, they marched to the armory, where the public exercises were held. Senator Hoar speke in part as follows:

"What I said just now was written more than ten days ago. Let it stand. It is well that these two great nations should know something of each other that they don't get from their metropolitan press, whether in London or New York. Each of them should know that if it enter into a quarrel with the other it is to be a contest with that people on the face of the earth which is most like to itself. The quarrel will be maintained on both sides until Anglo-Saxon, until English, until American endurance is exhausted. For that reason, if for no other, such a conflic should never begin. This whole thing is very simple. We cannot permit any weak power on this continent to be despoiled of its territory, or to be crowded out of its rights by any strong power anywhere. England would not permit us to do that to Belgium or Denmark. On the other hand, we have no title to interfere with the established boundaries of English territory, whether we like them or do not like them. All between those two limits is subject for discussion and for arbitration; subject for that internetional arbitration which a delegation of English members of Parliament came to Boston a few years ago to impress upon us, saying that in their desire for its establishment they represented the opinions of a large majority of the English House of Commons. The settlement of pending differ-ences on these principles will be compelled by the business men and the religious sentiment of these two nations' influences, alwhen they are brought to bear on the large matters of national and international im-

The Senator said in conclusion: "Le this day forevermore be devoted to filial affection. Let it be given to the utterance of children's love. The beautiful shadows fo the Pilgrim father and the Pilgrin mother hover over us now. In that spirit ual presence it cannot be that our hearts shall be cold or that our thoughts should be unworthy of our high lineage. Let every return of the Pilgrim anniversary witness a new consecration of his children to the Pilgrims' cause in the Pilgrims' spirit. If it shall be our fortune to enjoy the ters, of safety, of good fame, of The executive committee of the striking mestic life, let us enjoy them faithful to the God who has given them and to the instruments to win them. Not unto us. but unto Him, and to them be the praise But if we are called on in His providence to give up all these, let us remember that it is not for these things that human life on this earth is given. Let us still remember the Pilgrim's life and the Pilgrim's our sympathizers we charge you to avoid lesson. Above all, liberty; above all, faith;

AT BROOKLYN.

Editor McKelway Discusses Our Trouble with England.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Dec. 21.-Forefathers day was celebrated by the New England Society in Brooklyn at a banquet, over which Gen. Stewart L. Woodford presided. In a brief introductory address General Woodford made an allusion to the State issue of local self-government, which, he said, was one of the fundamental principles of the Puritans. He declared that it was still a principle worthy of the support of the descendants of the Puritans and of all who favored good government. This sentiment elicited hearty applause from the diners.

In the absence of Hon. Hoke Smith, Secretary of the Interior, who was to have responded to the toast "The President of the United States," Mr. St. Clair McKelway, of the Brooklyn Eagle, spoke to that differences, must be lived up to. Messrs.
Bak r and Griffith then left for General Manager Beetem's office up-town, bearing a own person filled it adequately. The people, he said, would always rally to the support of a President who took a stand for the right of the Nation. Since its enuncia-tion, said Mr. McKelway, the Monroe doctrine had been found not incompatible with peace, and it would not be found so in the case which has now arisen. It was an American doctrine. It said to the monarchies of the old world, "Thus far shalt thou come and no further, and here shalt thy imperial ways be stopped." He reviewed briefly the Venezuelan controversy and asserted the soundness of the position taken upon it by the President and Con-gress, and cited the existing condition of affairs between the United States and Great Britain as an argument for additional coast lefenses, for an increase of the navy and army and for a financial system that would be worthy of a great nation like this. Mr. Charles Emory Smith, editor of the Philadelphia Press, spoke to the toast "The Quaker and the Yankee," a text about which he contrived to build a happy postprandial speech entirely appropriate to the ecasion. A reference in conclusion to the stand of the United States in regard to the Monroe doctrine was greeted with en-thusiastic applause. Other speakers of the evening were Prof. Horner B. Sprague, Mayor Chas. A. Schieren and Mayor-elect F. W. Wurster.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. ROCKPORT, Ind., Dec. 21.-Gen. James C. Veach, aged seventy-six, died at his home in this city, this morning, after an illness of two weeks, of heart failure.

He was born near Corydon, Ind., Dec. 19 1819, was educated at New Albany, where he resided with his parents till his father's death from cholera, in 1833. Then removing to Rockport he began the study of law. In 1841 he was elected constable of Ohio township, but the same year he was chosen auditor and served three terms. In 1856 he embarked in the practice of law, having for years previously studied privately, and was appointed mustering officer and returning from Congress he organized twelve companies of militia in Spencer county se-curing for them 250 muskets, and one six-pound field piece, giving his individual se-curity to the State for the same. Having been lieutenant colonel of militia before the war he was commissioned colonel of the Twenty-fifth Regiment Indiana Volunteer Infantry in August, 1861, and repaired at once to the scene of conflict. After the battle of Shiloh he was promoted brigadier general and after the battle of Mobile was brevetted major general. He was seriously wounded at Hatchie river, but with that exception was in active service during the entire war without being disabled. Having contracted rheumatism in the war, it was number years afterward before he was
